A Marine Disaster.

New York, Feb. 29.—It is reported that at 2:30 this afternoon a collision occurred, in the narrows off Port Hamilton, between two vessels the names of which have not been ascertained. It is said that one steamer sank a few yards from the shore, the smoke stack and masts only being visible above the water.

New York, Feb. 29.—The reported collision off Port Hamilton is confirmed. The steamer sunk is the Atlas line steamer the Ailsa, bound for Kingston, Jamaica, and Port Limon. The Ailsa was lying at anchor on account of a fog, and was run into by another steamer, said to be a French steamer. The Ailsa had on board 15 passengers, and they with the crew, were taken off by a tug and are on the way to New York. The French steamer is probably the La Bourgonne, bound for Havre.

Is Pearl Bryan Alive?

Chicago, Feb. 29.—A special from Huntington W. Va. says: Attorney Clay of Wayne county W. Va., who has been retained to defend Scott Jackson, alleged to be implicated in the murder of Pearl Bryan, makes the startling statement that Pearl Bryan is alive, and will be produced at the right time.

He also has three more witnesses who will divulge the secret and expose the mystery in a few days.

Crowley Resigns.

San Francisco, Feb. 29.—The resignation of Chief of Police Crowley is said to have been placed in the hands of the Police Commissioners. Ill health and a series of family afflictions are given as reasons for this step. His resignation will probably be acted upon at the next meeting of the Police Commissioners. Crowley has been connected with the Police Department for nearly forty-five years.

An American Liner Aground.

Sandy Hook, N. J., Feb. 29.—The American liner New York is hard and fast aground on Westbank, about 1,000 yards west of the ship channel and a mile south of Swinburne Island. It looks as if she would have to be lightened before she can be hauled off. One of the ship's officers has been sent to Quarantine to make arrangements to have the passengers transferred to New York this evening.

A Fatal Bite.

Chicago, Feb. 29.—The bite of a pet parrot caused the death yesterday of William J. Marden, a well known capitalist and inventor, of this city. Two weeks ago the bird inflicted a slight wound on Marden's forefinger. It soon began to fester, and though the best of medical skill was summoned, nothing could be done as blood poisoning had set in.

Hunter is Out.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 29.—A special to the Post from Frankfort says that Dr. Hunter has withdrawn from the Sensational race. The Republican vote was scattered in today's ballot, no man receiving over eight votes.

TIMES CHANGE ALSO PRICES.

Do you realize this. Do you know what made it. It was not the old time grocers who showed the people the value of a dollar, but new blood forced new prices to the front and showed the people where they were at.

We did not have to reduce prices to meet them they came to our price. This is our claim. We only want you to know where the credit belongs and deal accordingly

We changed with the times, not after them, and our groceries are sold for modern prices.

L. H. BELL, Grocer.
